APPLICATION FOR BAIL.

Hearing of Petition of J. H. Tillman ed-Affidavits for Defead-

Newberry, Feb. 12.—On a motion made by Solitator Thurmond, on the part of the prosecution, the hearing on the application for ball of James H. Tillman, charged with murder, was postponed until Thurday next, when it will be held in the supreme court room in Columbia. The motion was sustained on the ground that counsel for defense had not submitted to State's counsel therefore had had no opportunity for reply. Following are the affidavits in substance, as they were submitted today.

Mr. Nelson for the defense also presented the testimony taken at the inquest over the body of N. G. Gousales.

HOLTERWARCH'S APPINATE.

HOLTERBACH'S AFFIDAVIT.

Before me personally appeared Richard Hoissehach, who being duly sworn, any in the subsence of the first and the state house. At 2 per cent. The committee rooms. While he was there N. 6. Gonzales came in and saked White where his boost was, and Capt. White repiter I have no boon. Mr. Gonzales came in and saked White where his boost was, and Capt. White repiter I have no boon. Mr. Gonzales came in and saked White where his boost was, and Capt. White repiter I have no boon. Mr. Gonzales said he meant Lieut. Gov. Tillman. He said, I suppose he is neglecting he duty, as he aiways is. At the time Gov. Shoppard was presiding. N. 6. Gonzales mid to Capt. White repiter I have no boom. White his boost was a state of the subsection of the state house was returned and would make himman; that he made went to the seast chamber. Soon after saw Gov. Tillman and his thumb resting up Main street. Senator Tabird was on the outside. Deponent noticed Mr. Gonzales coming down the street walking in the direction of the State house. He had on an evercoat and each hand in the pocket and his thumb resting on the top of pocket. As he got near Gov. Tillman, be call served your meanage, and then immediately I heard a report of a pistol. I didn't see where Gov. Tillman got his pistol from, as where Gov. Tillman got his pistol from, as where the relating his heard a report of a pistol. I didn't see where Gov. Tillman got his pistol from, as where Gov. Tillman got his pistol from the state house. He had on an evercoat and each hand in the pocket and his thumb resting on the top of pocket. As he got near Gov. Tillman, be call as at three per cent.

I have the first and the first

J. A. WHITE'S AFFIDAVIT.

An affidavit was read from J. A. White, heaver of one of the committee rooms, in which White said that recalled the events mentioned in Holtsenbach's affidavit and substantiating it in every particular, except that not knowing N. G. Gonzales, he did not any it was Mr. Gonzales.

TILLMAN'S APPIDAVIT.

"Before me personally appeared Jas. H. Tillman who being duly sworn says: That the statement herein made so far as he is informed and believes, it is proper to make at this time, is as follows: That for more than a year and possibly longer, N. G. Gonmits has villified deponent, pursuing him unrelentingly with mailee and venom which deponent believes was never equalled in the history of this State, charging him with being a lise, blackguard, rogue, debanches and villain and such other spithets. Every act of depanent has been distorted and discolored by hate and venom of Gonzales. That though innocent he was called upon to endure these, inassuach as deponent was a public officer. That he bore all this with pallence although his private life, heretofore considered ascred was invaded, discussed and held up to public derision. That deponent had been informed that during the campaign there was a rumor that Gonzales had said if Tillman had said the same things in Columbia that he said elsewhere there would die. Deponent was repeatedly urged and warned to lock out for hie eafety while in Columbia, by various parties. Deponent was informed that Gonzales came to the State house and inquired for deponent and midd that he had mede deponent enounter in which one would die. Deponent was still anxious to avoid an altermation if it could be done honorably. Insement as deponent was stout to retire from the diffe he was removing his personal belongings from the State house to his room to the hotel and among other things it became necessary to remove two pistola, one the property of deponent, the other left in the room by some one not known, but presumably some friend. While carrying these weapons to his room, while upon Main street, he observed N. G. Gonzales coming directly towards in his overcost pockets. Suddenly he patched his hand into his pocket on the right side and turned towards deponent. Said him, glaring at deponent, and with his in his overcome posters. Buddealy he dails hand into his pootet on the right and turned towards deponent. Said the time glaring straght at the should commence business, with a capital of one thousand dollars, and could by any possibility add therefore. Deponent believed then and be now that Gonzales was armed and sed to hill him. That he was desirous iding a difficulty with Mr. Gonzales in the was desirous iding a difficulty with Mr. Gonzales in the street. Deponent when he left the house didn't know he was going to Gonzales was about to draw a pistol him and therefore he fired upon him sent fired to save himself, believing his sin danger."

crease of capital put at interest, who would not be startled at the statement that the cost of the outfit of Christopher Columbus in his first voyage of discovery, put at interest at six per cent., would by this time amounted to more than the entire money value of this contineut, together with the accumulations from the industry of all who have lived upon it. If any doubt this, let them reckon the amount, estimating the entire outfit to have cost only the small amount of five thousand dollars, and remembering that money doubles at six per cent., in a little less than twelve years—or accurately, in eleven years, ten months, rately, in eleven years, ten months, and twenty-one days. Allowing it to double every twelve years, this five thousand dollars at interest at six per cent. since 1492, it will be found, would have amounted to $17,895,700,000,000; which, estimating the population of the entire continent of America (North and South) to be sightened. In Hildreth's "History of the United States," it is stated that Man-hattan Island—afterward called New hattan Island—afterward called New Amsterdam, now the city of New York—was bought by the Dutch from the Indians for sixty guilders, or twenty-four dollars ($24), and this only about two hundred and fifty years ago. And yet, if the purchasers could have securely placed that $24 where it would have added to the principal annually interest at the rate of 7 per cent., the accumulation would exceed the present market value of all the real estate of the city and county of New York. and other produce, or goods of any
